

Jonathan Edwards (October 5, 1703 - March 22, 1758)

An American preacher during the First Great Awakening. Edwards often wrote notes to himself on any scrap material he could find and pinned it to his jacket.